If you're like any normal person, you hate your laptop touchpad, you know wireless mice are a drag and a normal mouse is just too bulky. Newton peripherals' Mogo Mouse comes to the rescue! The tiny thing resembles a network card and fits into the laptop's card slot for easy storage and quick charging (less than an hour). Bluetooth enabled, it fits nicely into the palm of your hand. If your laptop does not support Bluetooth, a Bluetooth USB dongle will solve your problem. Priced at $69.95. Mogo Mouse via craigjamieson
